The elevated view at Limosa Rise, whether fireside in the seaward-facing lounge or from your pillow, is truly captivating. The outlook is over water to the very object that no doubt inspired your visit: Wilsons Promontory. There is nothing better than rising in the morning to see a panoramic expanse of the wilderness you are about to explore – this is the temptation Limosa Rise offers its guests every day.

Meticulously planned to celebrate the water and mountain views, as well as cosset guests, each villa offers contemporary style and comfort with wood fires and full entertainment systems to soothe the adventurer at the end of a day exploring.

Of course, you and your friends need not traverse the National Park to get a sense of adventure: you might seek out fresh local seafood to cook in the well-equipped kitchen. And a diversion to a local winery for a special drop to enjoy on your deck with the view would be entirely justified – and complement the seafood perfectly. If you want all the Prom action without pitching a tent, Limosa Rise is for you – and what a way to go about adventuring. We love it.

Location: 185 km or 2½ hours southeast of Melbourne. Map 7. Melway X928 C10.

Facilities: Three villas: two two-bedroom (each bedroom with ensuite), one one-bedroom studio. All villas with queen beds, kitchen/dining/lounge (wood heater, TV, CD, DVD, MP3 player), RC AC; deck, BBQ. Self-catering.
